

Revocation of the Final Rule for Respiratory Protection for M. Tuberculosis, §1910.139; and the Application of Respiratory Protection Standard, General Industry, §1910.134, to Respiratory Protection Against Tuberculosis

As Adopted by the Safety and Health Codes Board

Date: April 21, 2004

VIRGINIA OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH PROGRAM

VIRGINIA DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRY

Effective Dates: July 1, 2004
December 31, 2004 (six month delay of effective date)

16 VAC 25-90-1910.134, Respiratory Protection, General Industry, §1910.134

When the regulations, as set forth in the revised final rule for the application of 16 VAC 25-90-1910.134, Respiratory Protection, General Industry, §1910.134, to Respiratory Protection against Tuberculosis, are applied to the Commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry and/or to Virginia employers, the following federal terms shall be considered to read as below:

Federal Terms	VOSH Equivalent
29 CFR	VOSH Standard
Assistant Secretary	Commissioner of Labor and Industry
Agency	Department
December 31, 2003	July 1, 2004

Implementation Schedule of §1910.134 based on six-month delay of effective date

July 1, 2004

December 31, 2004

To review Revocation of the Final Rule for Respiratory Protection for M. Tuberculosis, §1910.139; and the application of Respiratory Protection Standard, General Industry, §1910.134, please see the following link:

http://www.osha.gov/FedReg_osha_pdf/FED20031231.pdf