Re: Regulations for Public Participation

Dear Mr. Harrison:

At your request, I have reviewed the Department of Motor Vehicles' posting for periodic review of the Regulations regarding Public Participation Guidelines (24 VAC 20-11-10 through 24VAC 20-11-110) pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia and Executive Order 14 (2018). This memorandum addresses legal matters only and is not intended as a comment for or against the merits of the proposed regulations.

With regard to DMV's review, it is my legal opinion that DMV has both the statutory authority and implied authority to enact, amend, revise, and review the existing regulations governing overload permits.

Virginia Code § 2.2-4007.02 provides that agencies shall adopt guidelines for interested members of the public to participate in the regulatory process. In addition, Va. Code § 46.2-203 provides general statutory authority for DMV to promulgate regulations "necessary to carry out the laws administered by the Department." Such authority, by implication, includes the authority to modify, amend, and review such regulations as have been promulgated thereunder as is necessary to carry out DMV's duties.

Finally, I have reviewed the current regulations and confirm that the current regulations pose no current conflict to existing laws.

Sincerely,
