Small business impact

In order to minimize the economic impact of regulations on small business, please include, pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 E and F, a discussion of the agency’s consideration of: 1) the continued need for the regulation; 2) the nature of complaints or comments received concerning the regulation from the public; 3) the complexity of the regulation; 4) the extent to the which the regulation overlaps, duplicates, or conflicts with federal or state law or regulation; and 5) the length of time since the regulation has been evaluated or the degree to which technology, economic conditions, or other factors have changed in the area affected by the regulation. Also, include a discussion of the basis for the agency’s determination to retain the regulation as is, consistent with the stated objectives of applicable law, to minimize the economic impact of regulations on small businesses.

In determining economic impact on small business the agency determined that (1) the statutory authority both authorizes and necessitates the continued need for the regulation; (2) that no complaints or comments were received concerning the regulation from the public; 3) the regulation is not complex and provides a basic framework for administering the program; 4) the regulation does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with federal or state law or regulation; and 5) that technological, economic, or other changes in the area affected by the regulation have not impacted the need or form of the regulation. The regulation intended to protect the citizens of the Commonwealth is consistent with the stated objectives of applicable law and has little or no economic impact on small businesses. The requirement to have approved helmets is statutory in nature so the regulations, which adopt nationally accepted standards, do not impose any additional duty on small business. The regulation shall therefore be retained in its current form.
