Eric Olson, Executive Director, Board for Contractors addressed the Board concerning the Education providers and information shared with staff during the Remedial Education Classes.

Education Providers

Many students identified the need for the pre licensing classes offered by the providers to include similar or the same information that is provided/taught by staff in the Remedial Education Class.

Staff recommends reaching out to providers to have them conduct a survey approximately every six months or so to see if the information being taught is adequate for the students.

DPOR staff will be facilitating a training conference for the Education Providers in the first quarter of 2018.

Eric Olson shared that the Remedial Education class that was held in September was the largest class we've housed yet. Thirty seven Regulators registered to attend the class and Thirty four showed up. This was a productive class.

Remedial
Education

Eric Olson spoke with the Board members. He shared that the Meth lab regulations are at the Governor's office. Once we've gotten approval we will move forward with the process.

Legislative Report

Anika Coleman, Regulatory Boards Administrator, for Contractors shared with the Board about the annual conference. NASCLA stands for National Association of State Contractors Licensing Agencies. She shared that many attendees discussed the portability of licensure between the states and most seem to not be in agreement. There was discussion on fees and systems to be used and who will absorb the costs for the new systems and the manpower required to process this. She also shared that Florida does not have any interest in reciprocity with Virginia at this time.

NASCLA

Mr. Olson shared that when Mrs. Mayo returns to the office from leave she will be working on the reciprocity process and reaching out to different states and of course keeping the Board informed of the progress.

The Board members were reminded to keep their IFF, informal fact finding conference schedule handout and to put the information on their calendars so they are aware of their dates of service. Mrs. Watkins reminded them to alert DPOR staff as soon as possible if there is a conflict or should an emergency arise.
