OLD BUSINESS Examinations

Exam Statistics

Mr. Kirschner provided the Board with a report on exam pass rate comparison between the current exam vendor, Ergometrics/National Testing Network and a 2013 sample from the previous exam vendor, Professional Credential Services, Inc. Mr. Kirschner pointed out areas where scores have declined since the change in vendors. He also indicated that making exams available in multiple languages has impacted the waxing theory pass rates recently. Mr. Melis explained to the Board that, typically, there is a reduction in pass rates during the first year of a new exam administration. The Exam Pass Rate Comparison Report is included in these minutes as Addendum I.

Report on Vendor

Mr. Melis reported to the Board that Ergometrics/National Testing Network has put a new Program Manager in place and that DPOR would be paying particular attention to statistics and outcomes of the examinations. There will be considerable focus placed on a successful public school testing this spring, with a goal of conducting preparatory meetings across the state between the vendor, Board staff, and school administrators.

Regulatory Report

Mr. Kirschner reminded the Board that there are two sets of regulations currently in review, the Barber, Cosmetology, Nail Technician, and Wax Technician Regulations; and the Esthetic Regulations. Both sets of

Eyelash

The Board also invited Michelle Medellin (see Public Comment section) to answer questions about the different types of lashes and the training required for each type.

Ms. Peay asked that the Board consider that the Esthetic Regulations contain specific references to lashes and lash extensions.

After further discussion, and upon a motion by Ms. Tsamouras and seconded by Mr. R. Jones, the Board voted to provide its guidance that the exemption in Chapter 7. Barbers and Cosmetologists, § 54.1-701, for “persons whose activities are confined solely to applying make-up, including such activities that are ancillary to applying make-up” should be interpreted to pertain to strip and bundle eyelashes only.

The Board discussed the state requirement that applicants for licensure must provide a social security number or Virginia DMV control number to obtain a license, in light of the public comment regarding applicants completing training and sitting for the examination without being required to provide this same identification documentation. Mr. Melis noted that the application requires one of these two numbers, and any reference in the Candidate Information Bulletin to other identification notwithstanding, the application is clear. Mr. Melis stated staff would examine the Candidate Information Bulletin to ensure that the proper information is conveyed.

Commenter	Comment
Brian Fillman	Regulations should be simplified. The separation of "regular" tattooing and "permanent makeup" tattooing is unnecessary. The industry self regulates. The state may be liable for bad acts if it regulates for the protection of citizens. A test regarding sterilization, and knowledge of blood borne pathogens, should be all that is required for licensure.
Sharon K. McCarty-Painter, Body Art Tattoo Studio	As a part of the coalition that worked to bring licensure of the profession, is disappointed in the outcome of the licensing program. Expresses concern about the large numbers of unlicensed tattooers working out of their homes. Does not want to remove regulations, but need to improve education and vendor distribution practices to improve the profession.
