In addition, this information is required by the Virginia Registrar of Regulations pursuant to the Virginia Register Act (§ 2.2-4100 et seq. of the Code of Virginia). Brief Summary

Provide a brief summary (preferably no more than 2 or 3 paragraphs) of this regulatory change (i.e., new regulation, amendments to an existing regulation, or repeal of an existing regulation). Alert the reader to all substantive matters. If applicable, generally describe the existing regulation.

The Virginia Marine Resources Commission (VMRC) is amending Chapter 4 VAC 20-950-10 et seq., "Pertaining to Black Sea Bass", to open a recreational black sea bass season in February 2023.

Mandate and Impetus

Identify the mandate for this regulatory change and any other impetus that specifically prompted its initiation (e.g., new or modified mandate, internal staff review, petition for rulemaking, periodic review, or board decision). For purposes of executive branch review, "mandate" has the same meaning as defined in the ORM procedures, "a directive from the General Assembly, the federal government, or a court that requires that a regulation be promulgated, amended, or repealed in whole or part."

[Mandate] VMRC is authorized by § 28.2-201 of the Code of Virginia to promulgate regulations and guidelines necessary to carry out the provisions of Title 28.2, including marine fisheries regulations.

[Impetus] Since 2018, the National Marine Fisheries Service has opened federal waters for a recreational black sea bass fishery in February under the condition that any state participating must pay back their February landings during the regular May through December recreational season. In 2020, ASMFC and MAFMC said they support continuing the February recreational season option for states. In October 2022, the Finfish Management Advisory Committee (FMAC) passed a motion to pursue the February black sea bass season in 2023 in recognition of its popularity and importance to the for-hire industry. On December 13, 2022, ASMFC approved Virginia's proposal for a February 2023 recreational season.
