g) Gas Fitter Training, Non-Apprenticeship Candidates

Gas Fitter Training, Non-Apprenticeship Candidates

Eric Olson Executive Director informed the Board that at its June meeting of the Board for Contractors a determination was made to allow candidates for licensure who had completed a plumbing or HVAC apprenticeship program to use that training to meet the educational requirements to sit for any of the gas-fitter specialties. Staff is now receiving inquiries from individuals that did not complete an apprenticeship program, but who did receive a minimum of 240 hours of training from an approved provider. Many of these individuals took their vocational training from the same provider that is utilized by apprenticeship candidates.

At its Committee Meeting on December 15, 2020 the Committee voted and approved that the Board consider expanding the acceptance of training only for those HVAC and plumbing candidates that have completed a minimum of 240 hours of vocational training in their trade and who hold the requisite years of experience in the trade.
