There exists within the Commonwealth a serious shortage of sanitary and safe residential housing at prices or rentals that are affordable to persons and families of low and moderate income. This shortage contributes to the creation and persistence of substandard living conditions inimical to the health, welfare, and prosperity of the residents of the Commonwealth. The availability of affordable housing is critical to growing and maintaining Virginia's vibrant workforce and to its ongoing efforts for further spur economic development. Since the last update to the qualified allocation plan in 2021, the need for housing has grown as have the cost and complexity of affordable housing development. In response, Virginia Housing proposed the amendments within this regulatory action to reduce program complexity and eliminate regulatory burden, thereby facilitating increased production of affordable rental housing units and shortening the time necessary to bring them to market.
